Strategic Alliance Partnership Created by IBI Global and the Consortium for Entrepreneurship Education

For Immediate Release: March 20, 2006

IBI Global and the Consortium for Entrepreneurship Education announce a strategic alliance partnership to enhance the learning ability of today's technology-oriented students utilizing the patented Super Teaching methodology, combining with entrepreneurship awareness to create an entrepreneurial society that competes effectively in the global economy.

Super Teaching provides a highly engaging, dynamic, interactive, multimedia, instructional technology that accelerates learning through whole brain instruction.

This exciting new partnership between IBI Global and the Consortium for Entrepreneurship Education will:

- Organize a curriculum team to create the entrepreneurship classroom materials at all levels of education using the 3-screen multi-media Super Teaching system.
- Develop a professional development training program for educators at all levels to ensure their success in using Super Teaching and Entrepreneurship Education curriculum.
- Set up pilot Super Teaching sites incorporating entrepreneurship awareness
- Market Super Teaching technology and entrepreneurship education to school systems around the world.
- Locate seed capital to develop this model that promotes brain instruction that can be utilized in the classroom for any subject, including entrepreneurship education, by utilizing Super Teaching technology.

Facilitating this team effort for the Consortium for Entrepreneurship Education is Cullen Gurganus, a long time member of the Consortium and leader in curriculum development. Contact him at cullenpg@aol.com or 252-452-0067 to invest, market, and/or use this exciting new approach to impacting on student learning needs.
